

LOUIS ROUSSET,

Plaintiff,

vs.

AT&T INC, AND YAHOO INC,

Defendants.

COME NOW AT&T Inc. and its Chairman and CEO Randall L. Stephenson, together with Yahoo Inc. (collectively “Defendants”) and move this Court to extend their time in which to file a motion to dismiss the amended complaint filed by pro se Plaintiff Louis Rousset on December 16, 2014. Defendants have conferred with Plaintiff concerning this motion. Plaintiff is in agreement that it should be granted.

Defendants timely filed their motions to dismiss Plaintiff's initial complaint on November 12, 2014. On December 3 and December 4, 2014, Plaintiff filed papers responding to the Defendants' motions. On December 8, 2014, this Court referred the above-referenced docket entries to Magistrate Judge Lane for a Report and Recommendation. As Magistrate Judge Lane observed in an order made by him on December 9, 2014, Plaintiff's responses "indicate[d] variously that he is amending his prior claims, request[ed] the court to 'disregard' a portion of one claim, and also appear[ed] to assert additional claims against some or all of the defendants."

Doc. 22 at 1. Magistrate Judge Lane Court accordingly directed Plaintiff to “file a written pleading on or before December 22, 2014 stating whether he is seeking to amend or supplement his current complaint.” Doc. 22 at 2. Apparently in response to Magistrate Judge Lane’s December 9 order, Plaintiff filed an amended complaint on December 16, 2014. Doc 25. This Court then entered an order dismissing, without prejudice, Defendants’ motions to dismiss the original complaint. Doc 26. Defendants intend to renew their motions by filing new motions to dismiss Plaintiff’s amended complaint, which added numerous new claims and factual allegations. Defendants request additional time to file such motions.

Defendants move for an extension of their time in which to move to dismiss Plaintiff’s amended complaint, through and including January 16, 2015.

CONCLUSION

For the foregoing reasons, Defendants respectfully request that this motion to extend their time in which to file motions to dismiss Plaintiff’s amended complaint be granted.
